A study of economic decision-making
IRB Status: Exempt from full IRB review
(NTU Economics Programme Ethics Committee)

You are invited to participate in a research study of economic decision-making. This study is conducted by CHEN WENHAO, School of Social Sciences from Nanyang Technological University.

This study will take approximately 10-15 minutes of your time. You will be asked to complete an online survey including a main task and a additional task. 750 participants will be recruited for this research.

Your participation in this study is completely voluntary, and you have the right to withdraw from the study at any time without any penalty. You may skip any questions you do not wish to answer. If you do not wish to complete this survey, just close your browser.

Your participation in this research will be kept confidential, and data will be averaged and reported in aggregate. Your responses will be anonymous and IP addresses will not be collected to guarantee complete anonymity. Possible outlets of dissemination may be NTU internal research report and academic journals. Although your participation in this research may not benefit you personally, it will help us understand the intertemporal decision-making. You will be compensated $1 as the participation fee and bonus depending on your decision. It will be paid through Prolific.

There are no risks to individuals participating in this survey beyond those that exist in daily life. The survey only involves basic cognitive tasks and subjective rating questions, and no physical or psychological discomfort will be caused to participants.

If you have questions about this project, you may contact CHEN WENHAO(Phone: 83166100, Email: WENHAO010@ntu.edu.sg)

This project has been reviewed and approved by NTU-Institutional Review Board. Questions concerning your rights as a participant in this research may be directed to the NTU-IRB at IRB@ntu.edu.sg or call 6592 2495.
