

1 Memorandum concerning the pre-analysis plan dated 22 October 2018

In early November 2018, we started to collect data. After collection of few observations, we noted anomalies in the data and received information that the wording of the instructions is misleading to some workers. Because of this, we immediately stopped collecting further data and slightly adapted the experimental design and wording. In particular, we removed the progress tracker and the sentence appearing above the next button. These are the main changes. Some other minor and non-substantial wording changes were done for clarification purposes, too. Fribourg, 10 December 2018.
